

Lend a Hand

Julia Anna Wolcott, 1889

Carey Boggess

$\text{♩} = 97$

1. Lend a hand! lend a hand! in the work for the world! Place these
 2. There are eyes that are weep - ing where none wipe the tear; There are
 3. There are lips that are burn - ing where none hold the cup; There are 4. Lend a hand! lend a hand! there is com - ing a day Wh - en words in your ban - ner, ne'er let it be furled Whi - le hearts that are break - ing for tid - ings of cheer; There are child - ren who starve for a bit and a sup; There are He who shall weigh us, to each one will say, "Didst thou sin, pain and sad - ness hold sway in the world, Lend a sin - ners would turn from their sins were you near, Lend a forms that are sink - ing, your hand might hold up, Lend a help ev - ery bro - ther thou couldst in the way?" Lend a hand! lend a hand! in the work for the world!

Refrain

 hand! lend a hand! in the work for the world! Lend a hand! Lend a hand! lend a hand! in the work for the world! Lend a hand in the hand! lend a hand! in the work for the world!

