

To Christ the Monarch

William Dix, 1871, arr. Richard W. Adams, 2019

John Wainwright, 1750

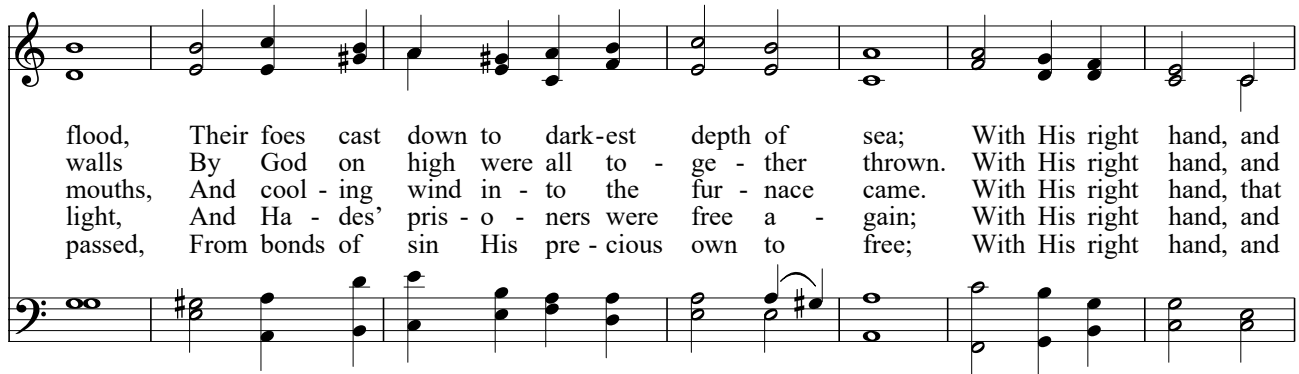

♩=160

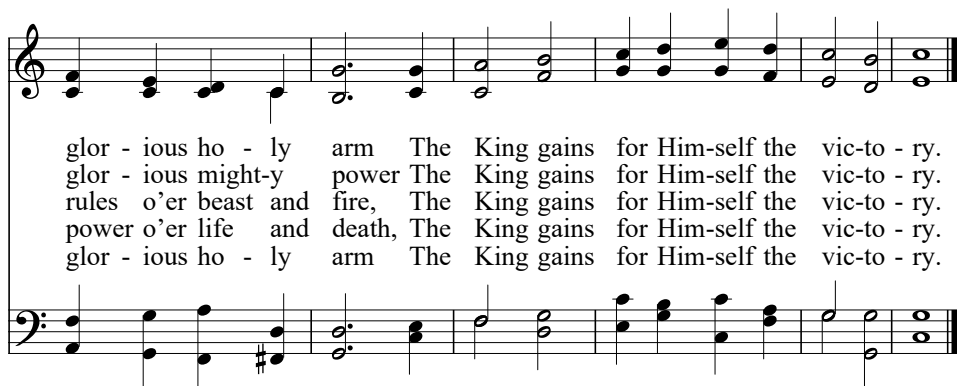

1. To Christ the Mon - arch, be our praise to - day, Un - to the
2. The en - e - my said, "I will o - ver - take," But horse and
3. The en - e - my said, "I will cast them down To li - ons'
4. The en - e - my said, "I will bind in chains Th'im - pris - oned
5. Glo - ry, thanks - giv - ing, prais - es to the King May all His Lord who set His pe - ople free; His tribes have passed on dry ground through the ri - der sank down like a stone In surg - ing tide, when part - ed wa - tery den, in - to the sev'n - fold flame"; But ang - els saved them from the li - ons' souls that lie in death's do - main"; But Christ the Lord led them in - to the ser - vants bring 'til hea - vens ring; See, through the grave and gate of death He flood, Their foes cast down to dark - est depth of sea; With His right hand, and walls By God on high were all to - ge - ther thrown. With His right hand, and mouths, And cool - ing wind in - to the fur - nace came. With His right hand, that light, And Ha - des' pris - o - ners were free a - gain; With His right hand, and passed, From bonds of sin His pre - cious own to free; With His right hand, and glor - ious ho - ly arm The King gains for Him - self the vic - to - ry.

glor - ious might - y power The King gains for Him - self the vic - to - ry.
rules o'er beast and fire, The King gains for Him - self the vic - to - ry.
power o'er life and death, The King gains for Him - self the vic - to - ry.
glor - ious ho - ly arm The King gains for Him - self the vic - to - ry.